College Moves A Step Closer To Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa

The twenty-eight members of Phi Beta Kappa on the Mary Washington College faculty have submitted a petition to the national headquarters of that organization requesting a chapter at the College.

The action came at the invitation of the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa which indicated that such a petition would be recommended for favorable consideration by the full Council at its triennial meeting this fall.

Approval of the petition by the Council represents the final step in lengthy efforts to obtain a chapter of the nation's oldest and most prestigious honorary scholastic fraternity at Mary Washington. Approval requires an affirmative vote by two-thirds of the chapters represented at the Council meeting, which will be held at Indiana University September 9-11. This vote must also represent a majority of the 184 chapters of the Society.

Since charters are granted to the Phi Beta Kappa members of the liberal arts faculty of a college, rather than to an institution, this group is responsible for initiating efforts to obtain a charter and for organizing a new chapter and getting it under way.

At Mary Washington College steps to obtain membership in the Society began as early as 1964. Following initial organization of the Society members among the faculty, James H. Croushore, Associate Dean of the College, was selected to conduct the correspondence with the United Chapters and serve as chairman of a steering committee.

Application for a charter required an exhaustive report on every facet see Phi Beta Kappa, Page 2

Admission of Men Now Possible at MWC

All legal regulations barring the admission of men to Mary Washington College have been removed, a move which will open the way for male applicants to enter degree programs as early as the 1970 summer session which begins June 15.

The action removing the regulations came at the request of Chancellor Grellet C. Simpson during the February meeting of the University of Virginia Board of Visitors. In addition, the General Assembly has approved a December request by the Chancellor that all language be removed from the Virginia Code "which could be construed as making the enrollment of male students illegal."

Male students were permitted to enroll at Mary Washington College last summer in accordance with a recommendation made by the Future of the College Committee. They were not, however, admitted to degree credit at MWC.

The recent action means in all probability that in the next academic year the College, which was designated the women's undergraduate college of arts and sciences of the University of Virginia in 1944, will have male students in degree programs for the first time since 1958 when the last of the post World War II enrollees, a Korean war veteran, was graduated.

In announcing the changed status, Chancellor Simpson noted that while the college may enroll male students, this would not alter Mary Washington's relationship as an affiliate college of the University of Virginia, nor would it have any impact on the academic program offered by the College. It simply means that if they so desire, men may attend MWC.

Applications are now being accepted from male students—both as residential and nonresidential students. Thus far, however, there have been only a few applicants and most of these are residents of the Fredericksburg area and would be nonresidential (off-campus) students if admitted.

Mrs. Bushnell, Dies in Florida

Mrs. Nina G. Bushnell, Dean of Women at Mary Washington College for 29 years, died Wednesday, March 18, in Bradenton, Florida. She was 89.

Born in Bristol, Tennessee, Mrs. Bushnell joined the staff at Mary Washington in September, 1921, and served continuously until September, 1960. Following her retirement as Dean of Women here, she accepted a similar post at Moravian College in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Upon her retirement at Moravian College, Mrs. Bushnell moved to St. Petersburg, Florida, and had resided at Bradenton Manor, a home for the elderly, for the past four years.

Drugs: A Product of Society

By Kathleen Atkinson

Miss Kathleen Atkinson, a sophomore transfer student from Alexandria, Virginia wrote the following story which appeared in the March 13 issue of the Buller.

Dr. John Buckman, associate professor of psychiatry of the University of Virginia, spoke Monday night, March 2, to a large crowd in Ann Carter Lee ballroom. Addressing himself to the problems of drug usage in the "drug addicted" Western society, he pegged the general attitude as one of "better living through chemicals."

Dr. Buckman divides drugs into those that are socially acceptable and those that are not. The socially acceptable drugs include alcohol, amphetamines, and barbiturates. The non-socially acceptable drugs are the hallucinogens or psychedelic, "mind-expanding" drugs, with the weakest being marijuana and the strongest LSD.

In discussing the effects of these drugs Dr. Buckman pointed out that many aspects of the psychedelic drugs are far less hazardous than the socially accepted drugs. He compared the many times aggressive attitude of the intoxicated person the seldom violent person on psychedelic drugs. Alcohol is also addictive, while the psychedelic drugs, on the whole, are not. He says the main difference is in the state produced, and that the socially accepted drugs "do not interfere with your going to work."

In addition to aggressive tendencies, the tendency toward suicide is much higher with the socially accepted drugs. Recently there has been a big problem with amphetamines in this context, since they are so readily available. They produce euphoria, which leads to greater use and suicidal depression. Barbiturates are used quite often in suicide. They are euphorants and sedatives and are very highly addictive.

The psychedelic drugs are very closely chemically related to one another. They also have the potential of causing both good and bad effects. The taker's underlying personality along with his attitude and the setting in which he takes the drug help determine the outcome of his trip. Age regression has been one outcome that has been produced to advantage in psychotherapy. Mindexpanding and religious experiences have also been much publicized.

The mechanics of the psychedelic experience involved a "disruption of the impulses of the central nervous system, predominantly of visual and auditory senses." There is also "disruption of the nature and amount of the nature and amount of sensory input." Dr. Buckman says, "One can experience any one sensation by two modalities of experience—one can see sound or smell sound." There is distortion of external perception and things appear more vivid and colorful.

Psychologically the psychedelic experience makes the person "far more intuitive than any of us is in a normal waking state," even though much of the person's judgment is disrupted. The person detects unconscious attitudes in others very quickly. "For many, latent qualities are awakened," says Dr. Buckman. There is no construction of attention as exists in a normal waking state through our inhibitory devices, and the person is aware of everything, but in no particular order. There follows in the person, according to Dr. Buckman, a feeling of intense joy at "discovering himself," and the conviction that this experience is of utmost importance and will "save the world." Suspicion and even paranoia are common with all these drugs.

Dr. Buckman points out that heroin is very different from the rest of these drugs. He says, "The person who takes heroin doesn't seek the psychedelic experience—he seeks oblivion." He characterizes the person on heroin as essentially angry and alienated. According to Dr. Buckman, one fourth of all the heroin addicts in the United States are located in big cities, with most of them in New York.

As aids in psychotherapy, Dr. Buckman believes many of the psychedelic drugs show great promise. However, he stands against unsupervised use of any of these drugs. He especially cautions people to "stay away from LSD—if you take it long enough you can almost be sure to come unglued." He feels marijuana is less serious, "but with chronic use of any drug, including marijuana, there can be loss of memory and judgment."

The way of life in Western society has a lot to do with the use of drugs in Dr. Buckman's view. He points to the pressures of modern life and says, "The present generation is not only better educated, but much more scared and anxious than previous generations." He adds that along with these pressures the "exchanges of parental love for grades" make the situation worse.

Dr. Buckman feels that "the use of drugs may increase in the next two or three years and then level off." He adds that right now the use of drugs is primarily a middle class phenomenon. Dr. Buckman says that "adolescence may be the worst time to try the stronger drugs... yet, for the most part, adolescents are more easily treated for addiction than are adults."

Dr. John Buckman, one of the few men in the United States licensed to use LSD in research, has been an associate professor of psychiatry at the Medical School of the University of Virginia since 1966.

Born in Poland, Dr. Buckman earned his medical degree at Kings College in London in 1950. His research with LSD began in 1946 at London's Marlborough Day Hospital.

MWC Students Share The Cost

Statistics compiled and released by the State Council of Higher Education indicate the students at Mary Washington College pay a higher proportionate share of the cost of education than do students attending other state supported institutions in Virginia.

The study prepared annually by the Council shows that students at Mary Washington provided $4.7 per cent of the College's income during the 1969 fiscal year, compared to an average student contribution of 28.5 per cent at all state institutions.

Mary Washington was the only institution at which the student share of the income was greater than 50 per cent and the College's $774.07 average fee per student was the highest in the state and more than $200 greater than any other state school.

The study further indicated that Mary Washington's share of income from the Commonwealth was well below the statewide average. Last year, for example, the state per student appropriation to Mary Washington was $635.24, while the statewide average was $969.01.

Governor Names Five To Board of Visitors

Governor Linwood Holton has named five new appointees to the University of Virginia Board of Visitors, including the first student ever named to the University's governing body.

J. Harvie Wilkinson III, a 25-year-old law student at the University, was named to a four-year term, as were Lawrence Lewis, Jr., of Richmond, Edward K. Matern of Roanoke; Donald Eugene Santarelli of Alexandria; and Dr. Brownie Edward Polly, Jr., of Big Stone Gap.

In addition to the new appointees, two incumbent members of the Board—Mrs. E. Parker Brown of Richmond and Dr. John Hartwell Harrison of Boston, Massachusetts—were reappointed for four years.

Those retiring from the Board upon completion of eight years of service to the University included Frank W. Rogers, of Roanoke, Rector of the University; Lewis Walker, Jr., of Petersburg, Chairman of the Mary Washington College Committee; and W. E. Johnson of Exmore.

Departing after four years of service were J. Harvie Wilkinson, Jr., of Richmond, father of the newly appointed student member, and William M. Birdsong of Suffolk.

Mr. Lewis, the chairman of the board of Flagler Systems, Inc., is a former member of the Board, serving previously from 1960-68. Mr. Matern is a consulting engineer, while Mr. Santarelli is an associate deputy attorney general of the United States; and Dr. Polly is a dentist.

Wilkinson, a 1967 magna cum laude graduate of Yale University, is expected to be graduated from the law school in 1971.

of the College. This self-evaluation took approximately three years to prepare and was submitted in October, 1968. This was followed last March by an inspection visit to the campus by two members of the Committee on Qualifications.

In visiting a campus the Committee considers the strengths and weaknesses in an institution. The Society requires that member institutions emphasize a curriculum which is definitely liberal in character and purpose and afford adequate instruction in the fields of the human sciences and letters.

Upon completion of the inspection visit the Committee on Qualifications made its recommendations to the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa.

In preparation for the September meeting, the Society has sent a statement about Mary Washington College to all of the chapters. This statement reviews the salient features of the curriculum and gives the essentials on staffing, enrollment, library holdings, and other pertinent factual material.

According to the Key Reporter, a quarterly publication of Phi Beta Kappa, some sixty-nine institutions applied for a study by the Committee on Qualifications during the 1967-70 triennium, and Mary Washington was among nineteen visited by the Committee.

Founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776, Phi Beta Kappa has recognized academic excellence and achievement for nearly 200 years. At present there are 184 chapters in 18 countries, and the living membership is 215,000.

Homecoming Activities Feature A Look at the Past and Present

The Alumnae Association has announced its plans for the 1970 Homecoming, to be held at the College June 5-7.

Highlighting the weekend events will be a program at duPont Hall Saturday morning which will focus on the College today. An alumna will review her impressions of Mary Washington gained from discussions with current students. After her presentation members of the audience will have an extended opportunity to question a panel of students, faculty members and administrators.

The Saturday morning session will also include the presentation of the Distinguished Alumna Award. This is an annual recognition made by the Alumnae Association of one of its members who has made an outstanding contribution to her profession, civic activities, the arts, the sciences or humanitarian causes.

Following lunch at Seacobeck, the College dining hall, the activities will take a lighter tone. Alumnae will have the opportunity to "see themselves as others saw them" when the Association shows old films and presents a display of photographs taken at earlier periods in the College's history. In addition, the following special reunion classes will be honored during the festivities: 1915; 1920; 1925; 1930; 1935; 1940; 1945; 1950; 1955; 1960; and 1965.

The program Saturday will also include special activities for husbands. Provisions have been made for golf, tennis, handball and swimming. During the afternoon the men will have an opportunity to hear a presentation by a representative from Anderson and Strudwick, members of the New York Stock Exchange.

At 5:00 p.m. Saturday the Association will hold a party for alumnae, their guests and members of the faculty at Spotswood Alumnae House. Chancellor and Mrs. Simpson have extended an invitation to the alumnae to attend the buffet supper at Brompton at 7:00 p.m. that evening.

In addition to the scheduled events, reunion classes have planned private festivities for Friday and/or Saturday evening. Members of reuniting class groups should contact their class agents for details.

Registration for returning alumnae and their husbands will begin at 4:00 p.m. Friday at Spotswood and will be continued through the day on Saturday. They will reside in Virginia and Willard Halls during the weekend.

The festivities will conclude with Sunday breakfast at Seacobeck. Alumnae are invited to attend the Commencement Exercises at 9:30 a.m. Sunday on Ball Circle. In case of rain the graduation ceremony will be moved to George Washington Hall and admission will be limited to those having tickets.

The registration from and additional details for Homecoming Weekend will be provided in the April issue of the alumnae magazine. For further information contact the Alumnae Association, Box 1315 College Station, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

Alumnae Organizes In Chicago

Efforts are underway in the Chicago area to establish a regional chapter of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Carolyn Crum Pannu, the group has met twice in recent months and has set its next meeting for Friday, April 17, at 1:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Carolyn Perdue Johnson, 1123 Ridge Avenue, Elk Grove Village, Illinois.

Persons in the area interested in joining are urged to attend the meeting and may contact Mrs. Johnson (tel. 439-5538) for further information.

Any former student who attended the College for at least two semesters is eligible to join an Alumnae Chapter.

Alumnae Giving Boosts Drive

Gifts to the Alumnae Association's annual fund drive now total nearly $17,000 with three months remaining in the effort to achieve a $40,000 goal.

This is nearly $2,000 more than collections at this time a year ago when only one month remained before the end of the drive. Last year the Association ended the fiscal year on April 30; this year it will end on June 30 to correspond with the College's and facilitate bookkeeping procedures.

With three months remaining in the most ambitious fund drive ever conducted by the Association, officials are cautiously optimistic in assessing the chances of achieving the goal, which is double the amount collected last year.

In addition to sustaining the operation of the Association itself, the fund provides a vital source of revenue to the College that would not otherwise be available.

MEMORIAL FUND SET UP BY FRIENDS OF LYNN RUBY

Friends of the late Lynn Ruby Ruby '68, who was killed in an automobile accident on January 9, 1970, have announced the establishment of a memorial fund to benefit Mary Washington College.

As a student at the College, Miss Ruby served as a freshman counselor, as a member of various S. G. A. committees and as an officer in the Young Democrats. Upon graduation, she accepted a teaching position at Woodbridge Senior High School, Woodbridge, Virginia, where she was a faculty sponsor of the Senior class and the cheerleaders. She also served as an alumnae agent for the Class of 1968.

Friends and former MWC classmates have indicated their hopes that the memorial fund can be used for scholarships. The application of the fund will depend upon the total amount contributed and will be determined by the trustees of the fund in consultation with officials of the College.

Gifts may be sent to the Lynn Ruby Memorial Fund in care of the Alumnae Association, Box 1315, College Station, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

Graduates of 1969 Still in the Classroom

A survey of the members of the Class of 1969 indicates that a majority of the recent graduates are probably still in the classroom—either as students or teachers.

Of the 394 responses to an employment questionnaire received by the Placement Bureau at the College, 149 of the graduates indicated they were teaching, while 57 stated they were continuing their formal education. An additional 10 were employed at institutions of higher education in a research capacity.

Among those continuing their education, one is now studying medicine at the Medical College of Virginia; a second is a law student at the University of Virginia. Graduate studies carried yet a third member of the College's largest graduating class to Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

Some 38 of the new alumnae accepted positions with the federal government; and another 34 decided upon careers as housewives. Occupations in the social services proved appealing to nearly 30 graduates, some with federal agencies such as the Peace Corps or Vista or other agencies of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; others with private organizations such as the Red Cross; and still others with state or local social agencies.

Jobs and studies took the former students as far afield as Paris, Madrid, Jerusalem, Alaska, Hawaii, Chile, Korea, and Viet Nam. They also, however, kept some 32 members of the class right in the Fredericksburg area.

RECRUITING ACTIVITIES DECREASE AT COLLEGE

College recruiting activity, apparently reflecting the nation's softening economy, remained in a downturn at mid-point in the 1969-70 season, according to Isabel Gordon '42, Placement Director at Mary Washington College.

Figures released by the College Placement Council, a non-profit national service organization for the college placement and recruitment field, indicate that employment for students receiving a bachelor's degree is down 16 per cent from last year.

Recruitment at Mary Washington College is generally following this national trend, stated Miss Gordon, especially in employment by the federal government.

Government job offers are off at least 20 per cent from last year the Director estimated. Several other Virginia colleges have reported a similar drop in government opportunities with the University of Virginia reporting a cutback of about 50 per cent.

Federal government cutbacks in research and defense spending and the general economic slowdown resulting from government efforts to slow inflation are cited as the chief reasons for the downturn in employment opportunities.

The teaching profession is apparently an exception to this general trend. The Mary Washington graduates who go into elementary school teaching will have no real problems finding jobs, Miss Gordon said, but secondary teaching opportunities are down, particularly for history, English and political science graduates.

The teaching field apparently will take some graduates this year who might otherwise have gone into business or industry or government work.

ASSOCIATION ELECTIONS — 1970

The Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association determines policy for the Association and is responsible for major decisions in such areas as fund-raising, budget, Homecoming and chapter relations. Although there are several appointed members, the majority of the Board is composed of fifteen members elected by the alumnae on a class and geographical representation basis. (The appointed members, or those who serve by virtue of their position are as follows: The Chancellor; the Assistant to the Chancellor; a representative from the faculty; a member of the Senior Class; the immediate Past President of the Alumnae Association; the Chancellor's appointee; a representative from the Alumnae Council; and the Director of Alumnae Affairs. These people serve one-year terms on the Board and are eligible for reappointment. They may not serve as officers of the Alumnae Association.) Each elected member serves a three-year term. Officers of the Alumnae Association are chosen annually by the Board from the fifteen regional and class representatives.

In June 1970 five of the fifteen elected members will retire from the Board, their terms having expired. They cannot succeed themselves. The retiring members and the groups they represent are:

Amelia J. Bradley '68
Alexandria, Virginia

Jane was SGA President in 1967-68 and president of Willard Hall for the 1966-67 school year at MWC. She was the 1968 recipient of the Kiwanis award. Since graduation she has been employed by the National Labor Relations Board in Washington and is also a part-time graduate student at the George Washington University School of Government and Business Administration. She is a decal location will be maintained as consistently as possible, the Nomination-Election Committee studies the representation at regular intervals and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors. At its October, 1969 meeting the Board adopted the following class representation (effective June, 1970):

Classes 1913-31	1 director
Classes 1932-41	1 director
Classes 1942-50	2 directors
Classes 1951-59	2 directors
Classes 1960-65	2 directors
Classes 1966-70	2 directors

The total number of directors on the Board remains the same. No change was made in area representation:

Zone 1 (Virginia)	2 directors
Zone 2 (D. C., Md., Del., N.C., S. C., Tenn., Ala., Ga., Fla.)	1 director
Zone 3 (Me., Vt., N.H., Mass., R.I., Conn., N.Y., N.J., Pa., W. Va.)	1 director
Zone 4 (All others, including foreign)	1 director

The bylaws of the Alumnae Association also provide for the annual election of a member of the Nomination-Election Committee. This group is composed of three alumnae, each of whom serves a three year term. The committee is charged with the preparation of slates of nominees to the Board and the supervision of details of the elections. The group elects its own chairman. The member retiring in 1970 is Mrs. June Ashton Stepper; the two remaining members are Mrs. Shirley Coated Heim and Mrs. Mary Ellen Seaborn Giliam.

Brief biographical sketches of the nominees are provided here for the convenience of the alumnae. Ballots for the election will be sent to all alumnae by the end of March. Voting in this election shall be by mail only. All ballots must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 15, 1970.

Cincinnati, Ohio

Susan was President of Honor Council and Vice-President of the Junior Class at Mary Washington. She was listed in the 1962 Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Prior to her marriage to Karsten Joehnk she taught 4th grade in California. They now have two children: Kristopher, 3½; Michael, 1½. While the Joehns resided in California, Susan was instrumental in organizing an alumnae chapter in Southern California and served as its President. She is very active in the College Hill Presbyterian Church in Cincinnati and enjoys cooking and tutoring underprivileged children.

Carolyn Crum Pannu '61

Evanston, Illinois

Carolyn is currently trying to organize an alumnae chapter in Chicago. She also been active in the Miami Chapter. At MWC she was listed in the 1950-61 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She was President and Vice President of the YWCA. Her special talents in music have been evidenced by her participation in Junior Voice Recital and the College Chorus. In 1965 and 1967 she appeared on the Perry Como and Jackie Gleason Television Shows in Miami. After taking management training with Eastern Airline in 1966 she became a stewardess instructor and staff training specialist for them. Her latest work involves the Mothers March of Dimes in Evanston. Carolyn and her husband, Dr. J. Singh Pannu, who is presently doing a residency in eye surgery, have a one-year-old daughter, Kara, and expect their second child in March.

In response to our plea for news, Waverly Lawson McCauley wrote that she retired in 1965 after teaching for 34 years in Virginia and North Carolina. Her leisure time now enables her to participate in community activities, and she belongs to a book club, a home demonstration club, the Women's Club, the Community Center and Del's Kappa Gamma. Her son, who is in the insurance business, has just been transferred to Richmond from Charlottesville and they are delighted two grandsons are, as she says, "just beams of sunshine in our lives." Waverly had a cataract operation recently and, with one eye still bandaged, described herself as looking like a pirate. The doctor says she is coming along well, which we are glad to hear.

Ora Gress Tiller, who also retired after teaching for a number of years, has been enjoying her days. She says, "The yard is my delight. In the spring it is beautiful when the daffodogs, camellias, azaleas, hyacinths, tulips and jonquils are in bloom. Later are the roses and all of the summer flowers. I never tire of working in the yard." Ora served on the board of her church. She has four children and five grandchildren.

Dear Classmates:

First the Christmas cards from Edna Gibbs Hunter, Mary Temple Coleman Thiede, Alice Warren Twidley, Margaret Gaye Ransome, Elsie Wood Rice, Estienne Brouder Moore, Bealmer Lathlum, Madeline Torbert Kelly, Virginia Beale, and Lucile Keady Boyle (yes, it is Keady). Edna writes of an ill sister who had been in the hospital for five weeks and now is in a nursing home. Edna was unable to go to Florida or to spend Christmas with her daughter because of illness.

Margaret's letters have been unusually interesting. Her sister, Ruth, came from Chicago for a visit at Christmas, and they did much traveling. There was a visit to their brother, a retired minister in Matthews County, and a trip to Fayetteville, North Carolina to see a niece. On this trip they stopped to see the Tyrone and found them well. Myrner had recently been honored at Campbell College, where he taught. A portrait of him had been unveiled by children of the family.

Elsie is yet working, but plans retirement before too long. She writes that Josephine Jerrell White is now caring for her invalid sister. This is a great responsibility for Josephine. Margaret had a card from her. Elsie also hears regularly from Sarah Goodmann McAllister, whose two married girls are now back in college and making excellent grades. Sarah has two grandsons in Viet Nam, one up near the fighting lines. Two other grandsons are in college, one of these on a scholarship to Yale. I am sure Sarah has a reason to be proud of her sons and family.

Mannie enjoyed a nice visit back home on the Eastern Shore in October and being with her daughter, Ann, in Richmond.

Bealmer spent some time with her daughter at her summer home on the Yocco-mo River near Callao, Virginia.

In December I met Anne Latone Warr Bedinger, Estienne Brouder Moore, Isabel Wallis Rowe and Kathleen Scott Warren '14 at Miller & Rhoads in Richmond for a delightful fellowship and lunch. We Richmond MWC'ers were glad to get together again.

Estienne gave me news of Grace Tawer's death Thanksgiving Day, November 7, 1969, after a long illness. Our sympathy to anyone suffering relatives and friends.

Our class was saddened and distressed to learn of the sudden death of Alice Warren Twidley on New Year's Eve, December 31, 1969. She was enjoying life as usual and had good reports from her doctor. Her Christmas card and letter was really something "special" and I'll cherish it. Our deep sympathy is for Calvin and Jean. Alice would have looked forward to our reunions with enjoyment.

I was disappointed when I saw my column in the last issue of the class news and noticed that the list of persons in attendance at the Moore's celebration in honor of the Tyrners had been omitted. I think all the old Mary Washington girls were mentioned in the 1913 Class, but there were others present also.

I hope you will remember the Fund Drive and make a contribution.

Please write about yourselves. Others want to know about your activities. A Happy New Year to All!

Love,
Ruth

Nancy Carr Harrison writes she and her housemate Rachel Gettle spent Christmas in Williamsburg along with Nancy's sister and brother-in-law. This has gotten to be almost a tradition with them.

In the fall Nancy had a lovely trip through New England and fell she was drawing in color as they went along the Mohawk Trail through the Berkshires and Catskills.

She is Chairman of a circle in her church, also active in her woman's club in Roanoke.

So nice to hear from you, Nancy.

Since November, I have had an acute attack of glaucoma followed by an operation in Richmond Eye & Ear Hospital. I had Thanksgiving and Christmas with my 2nd son Jack in Richmond and ten days in Lynchburg with my 3rd son Bill.

Now I am home, doing nicely, and ready to read all and all letters from you. Don't keep me waiting.

After reading my letter in the alumnae news telling of the sudden death of my sister, Lydia, the following girls sent nice letters of sympathy: Jean Miller Ward, Effie Berry Pogue, Cattie Bailey Cutchin, Margaret White Bear, and Ruth Carter Vellies '15. I do appreciate each of the letters more than I can say.

Jeau Miller Ward, as you remember, moved to Bristol, Tenn. after losing her husband in '57. She said our Amy Vandergrift left about $50,000 to Old Dominion College in Norfolk. I hadn't heard that, but I know she left M.W.C. $1,000. Jeau sent her best wishes to all who still remember her.

I had a nice Christmas message from Little Lee Michie Behrmdt. She said Bertha Scott Bass spent several days with her in her little apartment in Charlottesville in October, and they made out fine.

Effie Berry Pogue told me of the death of Alice Warren Twidley '15, who passed away around the first of the year after a short illness. My deepest sympathy to her husband and the rest of her family. She also told me that while Louise Milbourne Clark '18 and her husband were celebrating her birthday on December 9, he died suddenly. My deepest sympathy goes out to you, Louise.

Effie wrote that she and her husband spent an extended Christmas holiday with her daughter and son-in-law in their new home in Sterling Park development just 25 miles this side of Washington, D. C. They had sent plane tickets to fly from Norfolk. They were snowed in for one week. I am glad, Effie, you have recovered completely from your fall. Ann, her granddaughter, did not return to MWC after her illness, but went to work instead. Effie hopes to make Homecoming next June.

Cattie Bailey Cutchin spent Christmas in Atlantic City and visited her sister and invalid husband. She writes that she will not be able to come to Homecoming this spring. Her oldest granddaughter will graduate from the University of Wyoming and oldest grandson from high school with an A average. The granddaughter and all the family will come soon after and will be with her most of the summer. The granddaughter will again be counselor at their Methodist Camp. The grandson will begin his pre-med work at University of N.C.

Margaret White Bear wrote that they had such a nice Christmas. Their son and family came from Wilmington, Del. for the holiday. Her youngest daughter moved to Wilmington the first of January to be head of the reference department in the city library there. Margaret mentioned that had seven sisters and how fortunate they were that all of them were still living. I didn't realize there were that many.

Please more of you write and tell me about yourselves. Also remember to contribute to the Alumnae Fund so our class can make a good showing, and begin now to make plans to meet in June.

Thank you girls for your lovely Christmas cards, also the sympathy notes from you who heard about my husband's sudden death December 9th. After forty-six years of happy married life you can imagine how I miss him.

Please write me of your news.

I see Mary Ellen Burke Donald, Katherine Clark Blaisd, Marjorie Greene Douglas, and Beatrice White Winter often. Also play bridge with Sarah Jobson once in a while.

Have a wonderful new year, and make your plans to meet me at "Home Coming."

Claudio Wilkins Kitts retired in 1964 after 40 years of teaching and is thoroughly enjoying her new way of life. On October 11, 1969 she was awarded the TEACHER OF THE YEAR plaque for long and faithful service in the field of education by Masonic Lodge No. 199, Colonial Beach, Virginia. Congratulations Claudio and much appreciation for retirement.

Georgia Overman Stewart spent some time with her son in Germany last summer. It is rumored that she had a most enjoy able trip.

There are class directories available for anyone interested. Drop me a note or give me a call at 703-471-3128, and I will be happy to send you a copy.

'30 No Agent

As this class news went to press, 1941 Class of 1930 was without an agent, a class of which was made. If, between then and now, you have said "yes" we hope you will ignore the heads above. We promise to include you for the next issue.

Meanwhile, several members of the class have kept an touch by writing to the Alumnae Office. Here's what they have told us:

Frances Johnson Hubbard continues to teach at a private school in Charlottesville.

Blanche Edmond McKeeney is guidance director at Radhamack High School in Warrenton. And did you know she received her M.Ed. from the College of William and Mary in 1967? She sounds very busy. Both of her children are now married. Garland, Jr. ("Max") lives in Morristown, where he works for an insurance agency; and Anne Edwards spends his days mothering two daughters and a son. It sounds as if Blanche plans to return to the reunion in June.

A postcard from Elvess Conner Co carried the information that she and Andre Steele Smith '31 live in Manassas. Andre has two children and five grandchildren. She and her husband own an estate business. Elvess' son, too, is married to a real estate broker; she has a salesman's license and diploma. In addition she is an accretion. Herber show judge and writes a weekly social column for the local paper. Elvess' son, who graduated from UVa in June, is now employed as a civil engineer with the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company.

We certainly hope to see many from the Class of 1930 at Homecoming. Contact a friend and make plans now to be in Fredricksburg June 5-7.

I'm happy to report four weddings for the Alumnae News. Miss Patricia Geddes for ney and Robert Douthett, Jr. were married September 13 at the Clarendon Methodist Church, with the reception at the Army-Navy Country Club. They were now living in St. Paul, Minnesota. The parents of the groom are Robert and Thelma Evans Du that.

David and Mary Frances Rowe Varner Surberman were married in Hattiesburg. Robert Ross Ely in December in the S. Alban's Episcopal Church, Washington

O.C. They will live in Wilmington, N. C., where the bridegroom is attending the University of North Carolina. Miss Margaret O'Neil Donovan was married to William S. G. Branton in Richmond, December 27th. The parents of the groom are William and Marjorie Demert Branton. The bride has two girls, Catherine, 6, and Heather, 2 1/2 years old. Her son, Bob, has had his second trip around the world. Another daughter, Sally, is a student at Arizona University. Louise is teaching in the Continuation School at San Mateo.

Charlie and Bill Wheeler McCallum spent their Christmas holidays in Los Angeles, Calif., where they went to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Ann (64) and Jim Peers. They also visited Louise Jennings Cramer in Millbrae, Calif. Another daughter, Judy has two girls, Catherine, 6, and Heather, 2 1/2 years old. Her son, Bob, has had his second trip around the world. Another daughter, Sally, is a student at Arizona University. Louise is teaching in the Continuation School at San Mateo.

Emil and Page Whitehead Hladky's son, Stephen, is at Cambridge University, England. Another daughter, Mary, is a student at Colby College, Maine. Page and Emil were guests of Bill and Charlie McCallum in November. The Hladky family were invited at Christmas for the first time since 1945.

Sam and Adelle Mansfield Goodwin have a second grandchild, a boy. A daughter, Judy, is in Germany teaching the children of servicemen on the army base at Gelnhausen. Another daughter is a social worker in New York.

Vernon and Ruby Lee Norris Norris visited the four countries in the British Isles last year. They have moved to an old town house near the Virginia Museum in Richmond. On Nov. 8 they became grandparents for the second time.

Dorothy McGuire Bunch and her two children, a son and a daughter, spent their summer home at their summer home in Sandridge, Va. They were in Clifton Forge for a few days just after Christmas.

Alex and Elizabeth Hart Robertson live in Harrogate, where they have a daughter, attended Mary Washington, and another who is attending Virginia Commonwealth University.

Doug and Audrey Rose Barlow live in Seattle.

I'm thankful for Christmas cards from classmates as they give me some news to write to the class. Thank you very much.

My family now numbers one at home with me — my eighth grade son, Jonathan. My son Warren married, is back at MIT studying for a master's degree in management. One daughter is married and working in Washington, and another daughter works in Richmond.

Please plan to come to Homecoming in June. We really have a good time next year, 1971, is our 35th reunion and we hope to have many of us back then. So please be excited of coming.

HOW ABOUT SENDING ME SOME NEWS?

'37 No Agent

As this issue went to press, we were still searching for an agent for the Class of 1937. Is anyone interested in having some fun and expending a little energy in the bargain?

A lovely letter came from Janet Cunningham Soter in late October. She and George have three sons: David, the eldest, is a VPY in the Air Force working for U. S. Steel in Pittsburgh. His wife, the former Carol Verell, graduated from MWC in 1967. The second son, Robert, is a 1964 William and Mary graduate who is currently enrolled in the Graduate School of Social Work at VCU in Richmond. Thomas is a senior at the University of Richmond School of Business Administration now.

Won't you take a few minutes to share some conversation and bring us up to date?

My holiday was brightened by Christmas greetings and notes from several '39 girls.

Elizabeth Alexander Howdershell wrote she is still teaching at high school. Her daughter Vera is a high school junior and hopes to attend MWC in September, 1991. Little Cecil is out of service and working on a laptop. Ben is a happy business man in Richmond. Mother lives with me since Aunt Eva's death in September. Cecil's health does not improve."

Patricia and Paul Smith said she was expecting Irene from the Methodist home for the holiday. All her other boys have grown up. Several visited during the Thanksgiving holiday. A visit from Louise Gaudin Strimling was a happy surprise for Doris Louise lost her husband a year ago. Her daughter is in high school. I remember studying English with Louise and Anna Vette Harris when Dr. Shankie was "pouring it in."

The note on Nancy Herr Palten's card said, "I'm behind on Christmas and social preparations and am moved to say that 51 year old co-eds are feeble-minded!"

The letter from Kathryn Nicolas Winslow was reminiscent about her early life on the farm. It was in the days of Dole systems before electric power was available to country people. Now country people are so dependent upon electricity for everything that without it they are almost paralyzed. In the current news Kathryn says, "August found us in the Hawaiian Islands. We are planning a trip to the Orient in August and will include Osaka, Tokyo, and Hong Kong, with extra days in Taipei, Osaka, and Bangkok. . . I have a lively class of 27 pupils. My spare time is spent with my son, Mark, who is a first year teacher before settling down to housewifery and baby-sitting. Doward is in fourth year at GE making TV's."

June Maackin Fields was glad to see 1969 pass. Her '69 Olds was hit three times and badly damaged. Mary and her daughter and sister were both injured in the accidents. June's pride and joy is the grandson.

Morris Hall O'Sullivan is looking forward to son Bobby returning from Viet Nam soon.

The Christmas holidays were a busy time for Mary Belcher Townsend. Daughter Marv Anne is a dominican in the Holy Ball and had many social activities during the holidays. The family was elated over the safe arrival of son James from Tay Ho, Viet Nam, in January. The Townsend attended the State Dairyman's Convention at The Hotel Roanoke.

A nice note from Mildred Rockwell Skals as follows: "Am kept busy with my job in the regional office of the Montgomery-Randall Regional Library. Had this year by being included in Who's Who of American Women. Husband Frank is director of the VPI Library. Son David teaches history and dance in Loudoun. Two years ago Mary Washington has transferred to Medical College of Virginia where she is a junior in the School of Pharmacy."

Helene Dwyer Hale lives in Orange and is Eligibility Technician for Orange County Welfare Dept. ("where I've been for more years than I'd like to remember"). Daughter Jane graduated from MWC in '64 and works in Richmond. Helen and Sara Ann Chandler Ridger who lives in Augusta, Georgia, have gotten together for the past two years at Hilton Head Island. S. C. Last year Sara Ann's husband Bill and youngest daughter Beth, who is a teacher, and son, David, graduated from college last year. Son Bill, Jr. is attending University of Georgia. Helen also went the keeps in touch and exchanges visits with other friends. "Powell who has been a close friend since first grade. They grew up in Gordonsville. Now lives and works in Newport News.

My activities are most varied today I worked on removing old finish on a pew in the church and church work in June. August. We celebrate our 20th anniversary at Gold Mine this summer.

Come visit if you find yourself near Louisa anytime

Hope all of you are planning to attend our 30th reunion June 6, Virginia Reel. Winston's daughter graduates so she will be there for sure. Others planning to attend are Sophia Eisenman Fleischer, Jane Hatcher Major, Vicki Harris Massie, Mae Harter, Mary Stone and Christine Brown Carter. Edna Etry hopes to make it if the date does not conflict with son Rick's graduation from W. & L. Law School.

Edna Etry hopes to make it if the date does not conflict with son Rick's graduation from W. & L. Law School. Edna is a candidate for Secretary in the national organization and is the first Virginian to be nominated for a national office since Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck served as President some thirty years ago.

Margaret Ramsey Sears' husband passed away in October. Margaret has a son in college, one in high school and is daughter in the fifth grade. She teaches at Prince Edward Academy in Farmville.

Vicky Harris Massie is Bookmobile Librarian for Louisa County Schools.

See you June.

Hi — Does anyone know of Sally Ann Cook? The last letter I sent came back from the P. O. Also trying to find Becky Biddistone, Martha Jean Brub, Joanita Gray Whittles, Frances Greif, Jewell Wright, Barb Perry, Vicki MacLean Sauer and many more. If you are receiving this news and have not heard from me, it is because I don't have an address for you. Just drop a card and I will send you a questionnaire.

Heard from Violet Abrams in response to the last plea. Vi had a very interesting job after graduating. She worked as a buyer of antiques for Bloomin'art's department store in NYC and traveled all over buying for the famous "Antique Corner." Vi married Irving Koch and they have two very talented boys. For the past seven years Vi has taught interior decorating and gourmet (boys) cooking at a very progressive high school in Farmingdale, L. I. She has completed the equivalent of a master's in home economics for Bloomin'art's. Principals of a Vocational H. S. and supervisor of personnel. Vi wants to know if anyone hears from Phyllis Lieberman Davis who did live in South Orange, Ansonia?

Bette Griffith sent news of Emma Joce Davis. Thanks Bette. I am so excited that Emma Jane married William McDermott of the MWC Art Dept. They moved on from there and Mac retired from the Art Dept. William's present position is as Episcopal vicar at the Abbotsville Trinity Episcopal Church in Abbotsville, S. C. Rev. and Mrs. McDermott have two married daughters and a boy and a girl still at home. They are at 103 Marshall Avenue, Abbotsville, 28620, come from Mary Pride Hummingbird. Thanks old friend.

Gieger Bennett Skillman sends a message from Madeline Warren Carter. Madeleine was her husband December 22, 1969. She wanted you to know but was too upset at the time to write. Some of you probably knew her husband, William Snoot Carter. He had graduated from Medical College of Virginia, specialized in dermatology. The Carters lived in Winchester. Our thoughts and prayers are with you, Madeleine.

Ginger and Russell Skillman have four boys and one girl. The oldest boy is in the Air Force and went to Viet Nam just before Christmas. (where Ginger). Our oldest son is there also. At Quang Tri. The Skillman's daughter is retired and the joy of their lives. She has a tremendous amount of mental and the enthusiasm and good cheer which literally spills out of Ginger's letter is something you should all read. Virginia Bennett Skillman, you have to be the greatest.

Penny Bien Walker sent me a copy of their 1968 Christmas letter so I guess I should update it by now. Penny's Jack and Jill School is now its 20th year. She is starting on her second generation. The school 's held in the Walker's home and has grown from eight children the first year to ninety-two children and four teachers last year. She has a tremendous amount of "grown and gone" but a granddaughter has been added.

Good to "find" Margaret Berry who married Calbert Thomas. They have two boys, one a senior at Mich. State and one a senior at Cranbrook Boys School, and a daughter who is a junior at Sweetbriar. Calbert is a graduate of VCU and a member of M. U. Law School, is on the legal staff of General Motors. Marge keeps busy with church and school projects, does a little oil painting, sails on nearby lake in the summer, now and then takes part in Little League Players group. They have a Belgian boy living with them as an exchange student. Their daughter, who is a senior in high school, they had a German girl exchange student for the year. Calbert and Marge both like to travel and they have been to Europe each year recently.

Keep your news coming and when you move send me a change of address card. We will make keeping track of you much easier. And we want to know where all of you are. Thanks muchly for the Christmas cards.

Here's wishing all of you a Happy New Year and decade. Can you remember when 1970 seemed so very far away?

Just couldn't stand the year without Isabel Martin Wermeyer's annual January note, but especially this year. As most of you know, Isabel and family are in Tripoli, Libya where a military coup d'état took place. Isabel and family are still there, but changes came—curfews, prohibition, all signs in Arabic, Moslem banning of pork, nationalization of banks, hospitals and some businesses. Isabel and family are still there (Ray's business). We are so glad to hear from Isabel and can draw a breath of relief while they stay. Keith, the oldest son, 17, did is a National Guardsman and expects early June, 14, is working with tropical fish and 13 aquariums; Isabel is interested in flower arranging and compiling an International Seasoning Guide for publication by the Gourmet Club. Ray is a doctor in the U.S. Army and has been on all issues of Libyan stamps.

Isabel also sent news of Judy Preminger Rappaport. She is a widow living in Perth Amboy, has 2 daughters college age and was considering returning to school and to her dearest friends. Such a great feeling to "find" one more of our "lost" class!

From Peg Pugh Pittard came word their son Chris graduated in December with a degree in history and political science. He is a National Guardsman and expects early service in the near future. Their daughter Connie (a student of mine at Meredith last year) made The Dean's List at Roanoke College. Her husband, a teacher, is in contact with the Va. Department of Highways and she has "retired" to "homemaking, golf and all the other delights of the middle years!"

Barb Grege Carver, unknowingly, has really put me on my toes. Barb Grege Carver Migot (Margaret) Gardner Livesey's address and said Migot and Bob stopped to see them on a Florida trip in November. Migot was a MWC class 2 years (and a substitute of mine) in 1937. Barb and Bob are in Michigan and graduated. I visited with Migot and family in '61 when my husband and I was in Detroit and we have exchanged letters ever since. Barb and Bob are now Barb says Migot "would like to hear from former classmates and Alumnae News." Her address is 4265 Valley Forge, Birmingham, Michigan 48010. Migot says she is sure that she is a garden clubber and Educational Vice President of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs for 2 yrs.; Bob is a legal advisor to a major rail line, Jennie, their daughter, is in school in Boston. Migot said Barb "had laid out all her MWC books, so I had fun. Why don't you put me on the mailing list. Humbly apologies; we shall do it immediately."

Barb has been in Hollywood, Fla. since '61, is married to an M.D.; they have 2 sons—Richard, a sophomore at Brown Jr. College near Hollywood and James, a grad student at the U. S. State College in Ohio. It was so good to hear from Stacia Dorcas Mandelars, Norfolk, who has a son at UVA. Her daughter Elaine is a freshman at MWC living in Westwood in the same suite that Stacia lived in as a Boston Migot. Stacia and we know what she means. Stacia has been extremely faithful in supporting the Alumnae Association through the years.

Marie Williams Paul sent me a "look forward to every issue." She has requested a directory. I am still sending these out and am trying to add a list of corrections and addressees at the Coral Beach Club. Sounds like fun! Children Tom (31) and Muffin (7) even met some young girls from Lynchburg, Va. aboard. Jackie is living in Tenafly, N. J. and is publicity chairman for the Jr. League.

'51 Bill in Warren, Pa. Barbara Birkes-meyer Mader has been putting with real estate and is involved in the League of Women Voters. The children in 7th and 8th grade prefer to go to the beach, Fla., but have adjusted well. Husband, Bill, has good business year and hopes to take up flying again in the spring.

Marcia Egolf Monaco is back at work again as a school librarian alternating weeks between 2 elementary schools in D. C. area. Son, Woody, is a high school senior and is president of the National Honor Society. He will be a doctor. Betty, in junior high, is an outdoor girl, interested in all sports. And little Peggy, 3, is keeping everyone busy with her energy and charm.

Mary Pansch and Ed are traveling from Augusta, N. Y., to Montclair State College (our school) to take courses. Mary is working toward her master's.

And so it goes - everyone busy in their own way. I hope you will get to F'burg the weekend of JUNE 5, 6, 7. Please answer my questionnaire if you haven't and send pictures for the scrapbook. Also send us your registration blank quickly to the Alumnae Office when it appears in the Bulletin. That way we can all have rooms together in the dorm. See us all in June - I'm sure we'll have fun!

Sorry about the lack of news in the last few issues, but there hasn't been enough to send in.

The biggest news from here is that in September 1 started teaching. With all the children, school, I thought I had time on my hands. I enjoy it thoroughly.

Dorothy Belton Wood is busy with PTA, Girl Scouting, church work, transporting Little Leaguers, child reater, etc. Sound familiar?

Betsy Hughes Smith writes: My ship chandler husband is busy covering the water front here in the port of Baltimore. Both children are (15) and David (12) are a joy. The whole crew keeps her more than busy.

Gairard Dwyer Estes McCarthy is in New Jersey now after two years in Libya-Hawaii. Al, is with Esso Research in London. He, J. does substitute teaching when she has time.

Ann Peggy Ross's oldest child, son James, is a freshman at Bates College in Lewiston, Maine.

Ruth DeMiller Hill talked with Louise Larsoe McKim when Ruth was in California. She has 4 children - 3 are girls. The girl is a freshman in high school, Richard (13) eighth grade, and Ruth Alice (10) and in the 4th grade. All are active in the Scouts and school affairs. They were taking a trip around the country when she was in California. The children are Karen 11, Ken 9 and Keith 7. Ruth also had a visit with Wunie Hrover Brock and her family of six children. They were working at Gates Rubber Co. in Elizabethtown, Kentucky.

Betsy Fletcher Adams and family have moved into a new brick rambler set on six acres of land. They are able to have their horse and two ponies. All the girls including Betsy are very active in the Pony Club. So like Betty!

Janie Foster Kork's oldest, Steve, is a freshman at Rider College near Trenton. Betty 15, stays busy doing most of the training of the Kork's 4 year old, half Arabian filly.

A "woman behind the man" portrait in the "Trentonian" Virginia Ledger-Star in October had as its subject none other than Lois Bellamy Martin, whose husband Fred was recently named judge of Norfolk's Circuit Court. The Martins have three children, and from the sound of it, Lois keeps herself more than busy with family activities as well as sketching and ceramics. Our belated congratulations to the judge on his appointment.

Have received several address changes from the alumnae office. Wish you would write and tell us about your new location, why you moved, etc. Such as Betty Clark in Washington, D. C. and Sarah Herring Estes in Scottsville, Virginia. Would like to hear from a lot more of you by next time.

Marty Hoke Harris lives in Red Lodge, Montana (population 2,000, one of whom is MWC Class '47). He has a wife, Edna, a postmaster, also serving several small communities nearby, and teaches in the junior high school. They have 3 sons and a daughter.

Phyllis (Butch) Farmer Shaffer ('32) and Walter have obtained rights to a Civil War Battle. Turner discovered off their island (Isle of Palms, S. C.) and Butch is waiting for her treasure chest to be brought up. They are planning a marina. Wally has several shrimp boats and enjoyed a good shrimp year.

Peggy Jo Ellis was married recently to Paul B. Gill, Jr., an electrical engineer, and is living somewhere in New England.

Joan Scheininger Schneider and Stan live in Chappaqua, N. Y. and have 3 sons. Joan is president of the Westchester National Council of Jewish Women, a group of 700. Their primary involvement is working with culturally deprived pre-school children in day-care centers and housing developments in their area.

Becky Spitzer Harvill and Robert are enjoying a big older home in Staunton they bought last summer. Robert recently went on a business trip to New York City.

Joan Margot Rozmarin and Jack enjoyed vacationing in New England and Canada last fall. Their daughters are 5th and 8th graders now. Joan wrote that Nora Lee Hulme Watkins 32 (who also lives in Lake City) received her master's from the University of Florida and is doing a wonderful job directing the kindergarten for underprivileged children in their area.

Coolie Bennett Elliott is teaching fall time this year. Gene and their boys are "Mummers" - play in a string band and march through Philadelphia in wild costume and usually freshen cold every New Year's Day, an old, and Philadelphia tradition.

Nancy Melba Miller and Bruce are completing a 4 year tour in King's College, Texas where Bruce is a jet instructor in the Navy. Nancy is a social worker for the State Dept. of Public Welfare and finds the work - and living in the beautiful state of Texas - to be most border very interesting. They expect to return to Norfolk this summer, where they have their permanent home in an old residential area near the water.

Nancy sent additional tid-bits: Honey Kerwin Fred is on the West Coast. Nancy Corbett is married to a commander in the Navy has 3 sons and was stationed in Calif. as of Christmas '68. Leah Mears Shelburn and Bob live in Virginia Beach where Bob has an advertising agency. They have 3 children. Barbara Breen Dickerson and John, an ophthalmologist, live in Norfolk, have two children. Koko Moore is married to a commander in the Navy and has 3 children. They have just returned to living in Virginia Beach. Peggy Miller teaches in Norfolk.

I discovered in flipping through my address file this morning that we live about a mile from Nan Richardson Donofrio, and had great fun catching up with her. She has an advertising agency in Baltimore and their sons are 12 and 14 now. Nan heard from Polly Watson Goddard that she had just bought a new home in Easton, Va. Virginia, near Charlottesville. They have 4 children. Kitty Johnson Griesmer has 5 children, and lives in Livelihood, Long Island.

Last summer we Savopoulos moved to a suburb north of Baltimore where Mike is 7 minutes from his job with Maryland Specialty Wire Co. (compared to an odd-against-50 minute commute in N. J.). However, we did not come to this town for my utter dismay - love, honor and obey notwithstanding! I spent the first two weeks of 1975 in Johns Hopkins with a severe attack of the perfect storm. The diagnosis and process was unbelievable - they even x-rayed my head (nothing there) - I am now upright - in a steel brace - and well on my way back to normal rate of deterioration. Please note our new address, and stop with holding news forthwith!

Hi Everybody!
A newsy note from Vera Bestwick Willis in Heidelberg Germany. She and her husband have been in Germany for three years on a Defense Department job and hope to stay two more. They have been touring different areas of Europe on their free time.

Eleanor Zaudel Phillips and Charles in Bradenton, Florida, have adopted their second child. Elizabeth Anne arrived last May and their son Eddie is now 4. Charley is a lithographer in the Shopping Guide in Bradenton and Eleanor still teaches second grade.

My roommate Nancy Hoffman Eldman lives in Norristown, Pennsylvania. Husband, Fred, has gone into business for himself as a consulting engineer. They are the proud parents of four boys: Kirk 9½, Craig 8, Brian 5, and George 16 months. How many in our class have four children now? It would be interesting to know if anyone has topped this yet!

In Chesterfield, Massachusetts, Norma Bester Bibbee has been busy working on a master's at the U. S. of Massachusetts. This year she finished her teaching language and social studies to graduate level. She also sells building supplies and their children, Donna, David, and Danny are in the eighth, second, and first grades. Norma, who has been active in Girl Scouts for many years, represented the Western Mass. Girl Scout Council at the National Convention in Seattle last fall. While on the west coast, she was able to visit Jane Austin Weber in Los Angeles.

Where are Sue Sykes Shipman, Lois Jean Verling, and Jean Armstrong? That's all for now!

Hi Girls,

Congratulations to Calleen O'Rear Lewis and especially her Bob who has passed the Bar. Ex Atkins and is associated with the firm of Tolbert, Lewis & Fitzgerald of Arlington. Calleen also has a clipping informing all that May Day rites are no more! Minnie Raioy Mayberry has moved to North Springfield, Va. Peggy Jane Crabtree Roberts is living in Roundee, Tex. How long have we been married? Our class file hasn't heard from you since 1955! Joyce Hines Schaffer has moved from Frederick to Bolivar, Tenn. Zella Ann Smith Wyckoff has moved from Ohio to Amherst, Mass.

Kent Midlar Still has been all over the place since '58! Fred is with Gulf Oil Corp. and they have lived in Pittsburgh three times, Baltimore twice, Houston, Tex. three times. That's where they are now! They have two boys (9 & 7) and a girl age four. Nice to hear from you Kent! Rosemary Reed, have you moved to another home in New Canaan, Conn? Sara Parellis Vignali has been living in Somerset, N. J. since last year. Pat Humer's husband is now in the Navy. Pat is Mrs. Edward Madden and is living in Somerset, N. J. Pat, can you fill us in on details? Dottie Bob Sanders and her family have a new apt. in Barboursville, Ky. Jackie Davies Wood has moved to Amherst, Pa. Margaret Gates Ruff has a new home in Springfield, Va.

Ann Danaway Criswell wrote such a nice letter. She talked with Mary Kate Bird Schultz when they were vacationing in Calif. Ann and Floyd purchased a beautiful Spanish-style home in Pompano, Calif., which is close to Vandenberg AF Base - where he is a sergeant major with McChesney Douglas Co. They have really been taking advantage of being on the West Coast by touring all over. Sounds marvelous. Ann, Ed studied at UVA last summer on an E.P.D.A. (Ed Professional Development Act) in the field of English.

We are fast approaching our 15th reunion. I hope I got you all for suggestions, help, ideas and support in planning for it. We will be there - pictures will be taken of the group, and time will be devoted to sit and talk, etc. We'd like all of you to bring pictures of your families, homes, etc. We'll set up a bulletin board! And, anyone who is still in Philadelphia in person, must send pictures of yourselves! We figure to get a good crowd that way! Get going on arranging for car pools - today! If you can't, I can come from Conn. and N. Y. ... ?????

On with more news! At Christmastime, Colleen O'Rear Lewis sent her regards, as did Anne Louise Robertson, Ann Lee Berry Anderson, Jo Kauter Orr, and Chris Harper. Chris wrote she had a cousin who visits with Ann Duoway Criswell before Ann moved to St. Louis. Charlotte Flisber Klapproth sent lots of address changes. Thanks Charlotte! Kitty Davis Moore sent Ruth Glen - just 26 miles from Frederick - on a farm and loves it! Mary Lewis Peck became Mrs. John Baxter early in Nov. She and her 11 comdr. are living in Alexandria.

Mecky Canaday Sykes is living in New Orleans and Dave is safely back from Viet Nam! Caroline Jeragan Brown sends her regards. A long letter from Mary Kate Bibbee, who is still in Philadelphia, came when she visited with Shirley Green Stone, Shirley, Sam and their two boys live in Los Angeles where she is active in politics. Kelli, who is working on a master's at U. S. of C, spoke with Ann Criswell. Pat Selbert Siegel sends word from Manhattan Beach, Calif., of the birth of her third girl, Amy - born in Sept. Most exciting news came from the fall in Denmark where she found and bought the 58-ft. ketch "Sea Raven." She and Tay are having it outfitted for use as a luxurious cruise ship that they will operate on charter service between Costa Rica and San Andres, Colombia. They are also working on leasing a virgin area near San Andres to start a resort, halfway in between Maui and a new boat. Linda and Tay are sailing the "Sea Raven" to the U.S. in April. I'll have her letter with me in June so you can read the details for yourselves! It is very exciting!

Between the new house and working part-time at the nursery school, I don't have as much time as I'd like for corresponding with you girls. One of our jobs for the summer is to find a new placement for me. So be thinking! See you there!

Dear Friends,

Although in recent columns has prompted a warm response of notes and letters which are deeply appreciated by us and all of our class. Many thanks, girls! Miss Merritt Boetholt and Bernie live in Blue Bell, Pa. - he is a research chemist. They have three children, Doug (10), Linda (8) and Carl (4). Audie is kept busy with church work, Browne leader, sewing and an occasional bridge game. Joanne, who is the Phila. Alumnae chapter but has yet to meet a classmate at their meetings. Perhaps at the next meeting. Audie Last year's second N. Y. City reunion was cancelled due to late notification. Audie, we all missed it, too! Charlotte Flisber Klapproth and Chris had a pleasant Nov. vacation at Curacao, the Netherlands Antilles. She mentions it in your class newsletter. Boys Scouts and embryo sea gulls and having a fabulous time shopping, sunning and relaxing. Their daughter Cindy is now in seventh grade and in the same school. Audie, we all missed Charlotte is still working part-time at Johns Hopkins and enjoys finding some time now and then to send. Sandra Graham mentions a metropolitan area involved in Little League's church softball. Boy Scouts, summer school - driving to and fro it seemed. Sandy's two sons are Stephen 16 and Graham H. ... she and Paul are mighty proud of their boys. Bob says, "The boys likes Mooreons and Tony's oldest of five, is Anthony who is 14 ... I agree. Ann, it doesn't seem possible! Fran Pruden Allen and Michael came up from Charlotte, N. C. with their four children to spend last Thanksgiving with the Mooreons family - they all had a BALL! Love to hear about such nice reunions!

Connie de Cheseaux Langan is looking forward to the class reunion. She says, "I hope our fifteenth! That's right - fifteen - short years! We're looking forward to seeing you Connie and everyone of you! Please remember to keep your class address reserved for use and the Class of '54 will be wonderful to see you all again!" Connie and Jack are now living in Pleasant Valley, N. Y. with their daughter, Kathy. Last year they spent a marvelous skiing vacation in Canada and plan to do it again this year.

Fleet. Their daughter, Mollin, is attending the International School which is English-speaking and has children from all over the world.

Pat Falcobour Cook and husband Ross are living in Vincennes, Indiana. They have two daughters who keep them busy with different social activities. They bought an older home on one-and-a-half acres and they are living up.

Nancy Moore Cavins is living in Deerfield, Illinois where her husband is a guidance counselor.

Carolyn Shane McEntyre lives in Lexington, Kentucky, where her husband is an eye doctor. They moved with a new clinic at the University of Kentucky.

Patsy Whitmore Culerson is in Nashville, Tennessee where her husband flies for a commercial airline. They have three children.

Patricia King lives in Napa, California and is doing social work.

Susan Deras Houser is living in Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas where her husband, Parks, is a K. colonel in the Army. Sue is very busy playing the piano and organ for the post chapel services and also teaches piano to 12 students. They have 2 very active daughters, age 10 and 7½.

Jane Weiss Rawlings and her husband Lew were taking a sailboat cruise to the Czeasades during the Christmas holidays. She had a party with Rena Warner while she was visiting Philadelphia.

Suzanne Hoesinger Morrow and family are back in the states and are living in Bethlehem, Pa.

Kay Nelson Richardson is doing tutoring for homebound students for Chesterfield County.

Kay Stewart Swanson and family are living in Thelma, Ga. where Kay is teaching fifth grade.

Donna has covered all the news—keep it coming! The Guests were snowed in but we made use of it and went north to ski. I had added a new puppy to our family and does keep us busy.

Remember now—write so we can have a long column each time.

Hallo! The New Year started off quite well—a few—they sent me some news to pass on.

John Harris Perter sent a note about her marriage to Dave. He is a mathematician with the US Navy Underwater Sound Laboratory in New London, Conn. They had a brief honeymoon in Europe. He is busy at home with her new children, a daughter 8 and a son 6. Elaine Dewing Hawpe also sent word of her wedding to Jim. It was such a nice note. Bob and I had a very good school this year. Best wishes to you, Elaine and Jim!

Bonnie Ash Retlaw has moved across the continent. She and Vincent are just 45 minutes from San Francisco in Walnut Creek. They moved there in September. She says San Francisco is a great city!

Judy Totto Dean writes "Male Kakikuma to All." She is thrilled because she and Pete have had the same address for two years in a row. They hope to be in Alsea, Hawaii until July, 1977. Kay Ruth McMillan wrote a note from Amarillo, Texas. She had taken Linda, 10, Colin, 8, and Sue-Sue, 6, for a swimming meet. That left Mike, who is home in Roswell, New Mexico. She travels a lot, but since he learned to fly it really cuts down on his nights away from home. He is a consulting geophysicist. He finds oil for people. Kay keeps saying "My Martin is a little oil well day herself."

Kay Maria Britto called the other day. Last summer she and her mother visited England for three weeks. She had such fun. Kay pointed out to me that many of you in the Richmond area might be interested to know that Judy Townsend Galt and her husband both are book reviewers for the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

One of my roommates, Phyllis Spracher Grove, and her two girls, Donna and Shelia, are now living near in Richmond. Phyllis is teaching ninth grade science at Tuckahoe

Junior High School. I'll be glad when school is out so I can catch more of it. I called with Leigh Goodrich Massengill. She gave me quite a bit of news. I'm glad she wrote notes on Christmas cards. Ruth McCollie-Sigler and Skip have moved to 12 Marblehead Neck in the Boston area. They have bought and are in the process of remodeling an 18 room summer home for their home.

Ruth says that Marblehead is unbelievable, pretty, and nice. Just as Bert Young and Dave have bought a home in Norfolk. Dave is quite busy as an orthopedic surgeon, but he loves it. Dary is now in the first grade and Jammy is 3½. Nancy Landford Singer and Roger have just adopted their second daughter, Allison. They are living in Fairhaven, New Jersey. Betty Morio Goble moved to Miss. She is a post fall. She and Tom moved away for a few days when Camille hit. They were one of the lucky ones! Joim Ship Becraft and Earl have bought a town house in Deen City, Maryland. Earl is a CPA in Washington. They have three children Leigh was telling me about their vacation at the beach last summer.

Ruth, Betty, Joan, and herself with 13 children and husbands. (What a list!)

Thank you to all of you who sent the news. I hope some of you will be able to come to MWC this spring. I'm making plans for it. There would be time to have company for lunch. You all know the school hall rolls out the red carpet for parents and alumnae. It's usually delicious. See you then.

Hi there!

News from Cathy Dithman Crandall-Harris returned from the States in November and is assigned to STAG in Bethesda, Md. Marianne Carrano Raphael and family are now settled in Cherry Hill, N.J. Marianne visited with Elaine, Carol, Beth and the family after attending Irene Plescoe's wedding to James Rodgers this summer. Elaine says three children and three dogs really keep her running. Sally Wetmets is now teaching P.E. in a G. in Greenwich, Conn. school but the commuting is really getting tiring.

Nancy Brewer McGrath and Bunky have just bought a home. Bunky is a Revenue agent now for the IRS and is planning to be a field auditor for corporate accounts in the near future. Nancy is still employed with the Post Office Department. Pete Bove, Wardlaw and family really are enjoying their home in Garden City—there's plenty of room for the two boys, Christopher and Robbie, to play around in. B. V. Springer is teaching art. She's seen Mary. Robert Downing and Anne Riese. Faircloth recently. Also bumped into Gwee Albathol Belor.

My goodness—you should see the attractive family of Sally Warwick Rayburn and Jim. Her boys are growing so and little Ginny is just a baby. It's the time to see if you can. Kaufman sends word of Tammie—just adorable. She says Nancy Crosland Leifeld's husband is still in Laos but plans a leave in June. Ann Barstow says her boys are in. Caroline is very active and she's not only is running but jumping! Her husband, Fred, just passed his real estate exam. This will just be a sideline; in fact, Ann, too, wants to go into it. Her husband's application is being processed. Hurrah! Hurrah! Anne Watkins Steves and family are returning to Waynesboro, Va. sometime around the first of the year. Bob was an agent for the Equitable Life Insurance Society which will certainly bring them closer to home. Lois Gaylord Allen is team teaching in the third grade. She is a private life coach and application. She really likes it. Howard spent his summer in graduate school but they were able to get away to Cape Cod for a while. Luane McMariner wrote me she was an agent for the insurance company, Craig and Pam. Luane teaches Sunday school, directs the children's choir and is a volunteer member of the hospital auxiliary. Not what you would call the bored housewife.

Somewhat is extended to Julie Coates Littlefield whose father passed away in October. Julie saw Shirley Mulled Overman this summer. She and her little boy visited with Julie and Mike for a few days. Shirley is teaching art now. Ruth Gales Watkins has changed jobs. She's working for an advertising agency, Strong Productions at Gaithersburg, Maryland. Catherine Chappell, John and family planned to spend some time in Puerto Rico this winter with her family—a lovely vacation away from cold Conn.

Eleanor Markham Old thoroughly enjoys substitute teaching this year with Jimmy in the second grade. She feels she's doing fine. The Olds had quite a trip to Canada this summer. While in Quebec their car was broken into and between the few words of French and English, it was a funny experience. They also traveled to North Carolina, Alabama, and Go and this fall visited Niagara Falls. Now with a new golf course in their community, guess where they spend their time? Let's see, you'll say Dubuque County. They expect orders in March. They managed some skiing in the Poconos last winter and this summer they joined a swim club so they can swim in the lake. They'll be back with Jennifer in the second grade. And had time for such activities as library help, room mother and Brownie Troop Assistant. Another busy year for the Doyle's! Mary Friedman Downing says that Glenn had a job change. He is a Vice President and Director of Research for L. E. Peabody & Associates, Transportation Consultants. At the same time Glenn is taking the Doctoral Program at George Washington University and should complete his classwork this year. Mary is enjoying her new activity of taking elementary school children on tours of the National Gallery of Art in Washington. Irene Piccolo Rodgers and Don are eagerly awaiting the completion of their new home. It won't be long!

Christine Nickels Powick and her husband spent Thanksgiving with Billie Woods Jarrett and her family. Then the Powicks went to the Caribbean for some aruba diving. Christine said that a card from Robbie Beemer—Elva indicated that she was on the ship (destined to be successful!) called "The Calico Emporium" in Newport News.

Keep those letters and cards a'rollin' in, girls!

Love, Eddie

Well, Hello out there.

You are out there, aren't you? I have heard from some classmates, but most of you must be so ashamed you don't want to share news of yourself and your family. If it interests you, it interests us—that's the way it was in 1960 and that's the way it is now in 1970. We still care and want to hear about your comings and goings. Of course, in the old days you'd gather in someone's room down the hall and catch up on everybody. Now we have to use this column to catch up. I'm right sure that we are all gathered, I'll pass on the news I have so far.

What do my wondering eyes should appear but Bonnie Davis Hall, down to Fburg for meetings. She has a very nice car, a very nice type and, yes, she was expecting their 1st baby in March.

"Beez Jay" Cox Farris is living in Alameda. He and her husband are aboard the USS Coral Sea so she is spending these nine months keeping up with her two children. By now she will have returned from the States. He is a very nice guy and is looking forward to his homecoming. Due to daughter Rachel's arrival in late November, Natalie Robins Leihmann-Haupt has resigned her post as poetry editor of Freedom House. Her new collection of poetry is finished and should be published this year. At the moment she is working on a play and enjoying her new experience as a mother. I hope you'll be as happy as I am about this new verse. Not how about sharing some with us? If you'd like to write something appropriate for a tenth reunion, we'll even have a special issue for you.

Mary Jane Stevets Taylor wrote from Bethesda, Md. Her husband Ray, took Mary Jane and the two boys to France for two years where he studied political science at the University of Grenoble, and then to D.C. where he studied international relations at American University for a year. In Feb. 11, 1978, Taylor's US work was over. Mary Jane and the boys will remain in the area until June when they'll join Ray at their new home port. Mary Jane says, in spite of nearly flunking French at MWC, she has become quite fluent and is enjoying her studying. Now there are three in a French professor here who will find that item newsworthy. Mary Jane says she will be here for our reunion in June, by the way. Margaret and her family came through with an address for "Joe" James Steinberg. A huge and very grateful Thank You, Margie. Jo's husband is with Voice of America and they are living in New York. There were 10 D.C. for last year but have returned with their little son to South Africa. Jo's address for those who have been hoping to get it is: Mrs. Leon Steinberg, American Embassy (USIS), APO New York, New York 09125. He is living in King William with her husband, Allen, and their two children in a venerable old house which they have just finished remodeling this spring after eight years' work. I hope that you'll have my visits to area high schools and to the chance to drop in and surprise her. Margie also sent news of Betty Ralnes Grimes and family who are back in Richmond; and of Carolyn Cusack Hunsicker. At last word the four Hunsickers were living in Switzerland and loving it.

Martha Pace Patchon, who left MWC after two years for U. of W. with activist her in English education with a speech minor in Feb. '65. After a brief career with the National Geographic Society, she married Michael P. Patchan in Sept. '67. They now have two children and are living in D.C. where her husband is an employment Development Officer at the Dept. of Commerce. Judy Gerland, Martha's roommate who also transferred to U. of Md., is now Mrs. Lesley Gerland. She is active in the Washington, Md. AAUW. Her other roommate, Denise Sennsough, is Mrs. Thomas A. Staniell and has moved to Fort Wayne, Indiana with her husband and three children.

I received a spirit-lifting letter just in time for my news deadline, from Joan Austin in Washington in D.C. to Joan Austin Malloux. Joan Choate, and Pruney Cornes Burroughs sent in their reservations and preferences for homecoming. That was a real joy to receive again. I hope that we are all in time. Pruney and lawyer-type husband, Bill, who have two daughters, have just purchased a home in Arlington. Joan's teaching first grade, has become very involved. Her husband is moving to Europe. Lynn and her husband, Pierre, live on Capitol Hill with their three children. Pierre is a lawyer and Lynn is active in solving the problems of integration and education on Capitol Hill. She made a TV appearance recently giving her views on living on Capitol Hill, an integrated neighborhood. She worked for the Public Schools and was very important in the very important event in D.C. In addition to all this, Lynn has just completed a ceramic course at the Corcoran Gallery, who sell the art. She has two children and no, three was due in late Feb. Her husband, Guy, works for RCA and they purchased a home in D.C. about three years ago. She has been active in PTA and in the National Association of Teachers. She is active in the National Symphony Fund Raising Committee and selling Avon. Both Guy and Joan have become active politically and were busy in recent local and national elections. Let's get a lot of news from a homey one in Europe, sans children. How lovely! One other truly lovely note was help offer to help. I have contacted her by the time you read this and have her name at work. I hope.

Several others have volunteered to act as Area Coordinators contacting our classmates in their own part of the country in anticipation of homecoming. Patty Margie Bellows is covering her state of Conn. and also the Tri-State area. Tracy Smith of New York, Rose Bennett Gilbert has Pennsylvania, Carole Falco Williams has Pennsylvania and Delaware and Karen Larson Nelson has California. Let's get a lot of news from other areas if you'd be willing to help me know. Please, please write immediately anyway, notifying me of your intentions at wishes so that I can make definite arrangements. I have a lot of friends who are very marvelous helpful and I am moving forward on your instructions. If you have anything to add you'd better hurry. Time is running out.

I was about to sign off "expectantly" but that might be a bit misleading so I'll sign...

As always,
JODY

We didn't get many letters this time, but those we did get were checked full of news. Donna McDuff Dickman tells about herself and old MWC friends. She is currently a Veterans Administration field working on her Ph.D. in audiology and speech pathology at the University of Maryland. She and her husband Neil, a lawyer, live in Georgetown.

Leslie Smith was married in New York City in January to Jim Needham, an economist.

Camille Chesson Gendell is expecting her second child and lives in Holland, Pennsylvania, where Tony is an engineer with Drive, Inc. Robert Austin, Tom, and their two children also live in Pennsylvania and see Camille often.

Peggy Hawks Benson lives in Garland, Texas, with John and their two children. John is a banker. Hope Reynolds lives in Washington, D.C., and has a glamorous job working for a congressman. Thanks, Donna, for all this news!

Barbara Kerr Clark had lots of information for us, too. She married David in July of 1967. They have a daughter, Heather Ann, and are optimistically predicting a son in March! Their other family member is a "black kitten," David is employed at RCA in Camden, New Jersey, in Commercial Electronic Systems, traveling to such places as Puerto Rico and Peru.

Fran Thresher Beaumont and Pete live in an old home in Germantown, Pennsylvania, with their son Pete, Jr. David is a successful banker with Centennial Bank and Trust, reports Barbara.

Mary Shottos visited the Clarkes several times before moving to California where she has become the "Mrs. Francisco!"

Another letter was from Sharon Belknap. She resigned her position at the Library of Congress to devote full time to finishing up work on a master's in education in the field of social studies. While at the University of Virginia, she helps at the Alderman Library. What a busy girl! Her new address is 1120 E. John Street, Charlottesville. After doing graduate work in education at Old Dominion, Ruth and Raymond began work as a guidance counselor at Syms Junior High School in Hampton. The new last name was acquired in August when she married Baxter Simmons, a Randolph-Macon graduate, who is contract manager for The Rug Shop in Hampton.

Jaei Gallagher Linning and Charlie have moved to Memphis, Tenn., where she has been promoted to Assistant District Manager. Joyce Hemminger says that for a short visit while they were in Atlanta. Hope was helping with the opening of the Atlanta branch of Tiffany's Jewelry Store; she works for their N.Y. City office.

With the coming of spring and summer, people will not do odd things, so let me just know what you are up to, girls.

Through the Alumnae Office, I learned that Marietta Hirschborn MacLachlan became Mrs. Waldo W. Montgomery on December 19, 1969. Best wishes to "Bunny" who continues to make England at Rosewell High School where she sponsors the Senior Class.

I had a lovely note from Marjorie Pollock, Lundberg who had much news. She and Charles live in Huntington Beach, Calif. He is one of the Marine Corps and works for the Burroughs Corporation as a Sales Representative. Their first child, Kirstin Lee, was born on December 10, 1969. June 7, 1968, Marjorie surprised everyone, including herself, with twins, Kurt and Kent. She is pleased that the twins aren't as much trouble as she had feared. She sounds to be as fit as Marjorie must have her hands full. Thanks for taking the time to write, Marjorie. Christmas time brought a long letter from Mary King, who is now living with her family and also Kathryn Frang-ough Jones. Sandy writes that her husband, Withers, has left teaching to work for the Power Generation Division of Babcock and Wilcox Company. Sandy herself keeps busy caring for daughter, Lori, 10 years, and Lynn, 10 months. Kathy and Chuck Jones were in Lynchburg in October and Sandy visited with them at the home of Kathy's aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. Waldo M. Watkins. Kathy and Chuck have been teaching and studying at the University of the Americas in Mexico City, Mexico. Kathy now has her master's degree from New Mexico Highlands University in Las Vegas, New Mexico. They are off now to spend some time in Europe, principally Spain.

Sue also writes that Sue Colleen Tate is living in New York City while Barbara is studying at Union Seminary. (I assume he's out of the Navy, Sue?) Sue and Bill are expecting a baby in April. Congratulations! It's the first!

Please keep the news coming. I'm sure everyone in the Class of '64 enjoys hearing from one another through this column as much as I enjoy your letters and post cards. The deadline for the alumnae newspaper and my deadline are about to collide. I'm expecting our first child sometime in February.

Ruth and I are very Christmas notes, but I would still enjoy hearing from some of our long lost classmates.

Proud new homeowners who wrote me are Lou Davis Smith, Evelyn Branson Sanford '63, and Nancy Bech Beach, Lou's husband, David, and their son, Michael, are moving their home in the suburbs of Maryland (near Silver Spring) after traveling extensively in all of the free European countries except four. They were all stationed in England for the last two years in Germany for two years. Now that they are civilians once more, David is an electrical engineer with the Department of Defense.

Evelyn and Billy Sanford received their master's degrees in June, 1969. They live in Montross, Va., where Evelyn has switched from teaching to social work. She and Billy find that their jobs frequently overlap, since he is the visiting teacher for the area.

Nancy and George Bech bought an old home, which they are remodeling. It is in the suburbs of Falls Church, where Nancy is enjoying her teaching. George has expanded his appliance-television store business to include cars.

I received an adorable Christmas picture-card from my roommate, Martha Ann McConnell Coppage. She, hubby Reese, and son Christopher were on their bicycles in their Maryland home. Martha is married. I was married in the midst of a seventeen inch snowfall, so I was envious of the shirt-sleeved family. Chris was a year old in February, 1978, and he is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi of Philadelphia seems to please Camille Chesson Gendell and her husband Tony because they are nearer to friends and to family. Tony is an engineer on a new bridge across the Delaware River. Camille is busy tending to their son, John, and she was awaiting another child in February.

We all remember Barbara Isaacs, as never lacking for cheer and news. She is now a frequent flyer, sending me five pages of news! She reports that Pam Barcroft Huffman and Jay are living in Rock Hill, Mo. with their three beautiful daughters.

A well-traveled alumna Ann Christina Nelson (Chris), lives in Washington, D.C. and is office manager for Airport Association. Her job takes her to Montreal and Los Angeles, as well as to other interesting areas. She is married to Bill and lives in Illinois, where Bill is a commercial airlines pilot. Margie has received her master's degree from U. Va. They have a two year old daughter, Erin.

Two New York residents are Janet and Bill. Janet is a Lab with Art and Ray Cross and Betsy Ruth, who works as an editor. Betsy has almost completed her graduate work in education at Connecticut State.

Barbara Isaacs has recently returned from a year in Greece. She is now working for the U.S. government as a computer programmer in Washington, D.C.

A current student at M.W.C., Barbara Blagden '78, was interested enough to send me news of Lea Guarini, whom she saw during the Christmas holidays. Thank you, Barbara! Since graduation, Lea has worked on Capitol Hill. Presently, she is a special assistant to Congressman Gilbert Gode of Maryland. Lea is considering taking a leave of absence to work toward her master's degree at George Washington University. She, too, has recently returned from Greece. This column is becoming lengthy, so I'll save some of my news for the next issue. Let me hear from you.

Dear Class of '65,

With the start of a new year, I hope to hear from many of you who have not reported in during the last five years. If you don't have time to write, please make plans to come to our fifth reunion during the homecoming at MWC. I'm coming home, faces, places and families have changed, and we look forward to seeing you then.

First, a letter from Lee Smith Magrawe whose husband Don is now working on his doctorate in English at the U. of Maryland. Dick, who plans to finish his degree requirements in two years, Lee, and daughter Lisa enjoy the graduate student housing area in College Park where there are many couples about the same age and loads of small children for Lisa. Dick received an assistantship for his studies, and Lee is assisting the family income by tutoring.

Lee recently bumped into Margo Oht Duni in a College Park shopping center. Margo and Peter, who were married last summer and honeymooned in Europe, are living in Seelstruck, Maryland. Lee and Abbie Donald Trier, who is still at MWC, are teaching in Arlington, often get together to chat while Lisa and Abbie's son David play. Lee writes that she occasionally looks with Margaret Mahan Goldman who works at a buyer in DC for Jelleff's and Mary Lou Skeeter McDaniel, who is living and teaching in Alexandria.

Brenda Hand Farrell and husband John have moved to San Clemente, Calif., where John has rejoined the Marine Corps. Judy Strawbridge Dickinson and Fred are now living in Rocky Mount, N. C. where Judy is teaching in a private school. Donna Robinson is doing for Delta Airlines with Atlanta as her home base.

Luisita Gujerrero Hays and husband Larry are currently in North Highlands, California, where Luisita is teaching high school and Larry is in the Air Force. Last summer they enjoyed a marvelous holiday in Europe visiting Bavaria and England.

Betty Massie Gibson writes that husband Ed, a UVA graduate, is now the Assistant Cashier for the First National Exchange Bank in Covington, but that he is considering returning to teaching. Betty is now working in Business Administration. Betty taught fifth grade upon graduation from MWC, but has taught first grade for the past four years and loves it. The Gibsons have a little boy, Edward III, who was born last July 28, and a ranch-style home in the Idlewild section of Covington, which Betty says will be theirs in twenty years.

boonie O'Brien Pettitrew and Dan were expecting last December. She writes that Sally Adams Parrish and Offit were blessed with a little boy last July—Howard Ashton Bonnie's husband graduated about a year ago from Miami of Ohio Graduate School of Business with a master's degree in supervision of manufacturing with a Masconet Corporation plant in Thomasville, North Carolina. The Pettitrews have bought a new house on a wooded lot in High Point and love being homeowners.

Bonnie writes that Trish Goss Murray now has two daughters, Melinda, almost three, and Jennifer, born last May. Martha Davis Rogers and husband Dan, who is practicing law in Richmond, have a son, John, who is a year old. Anne Plummer Lin has a two-year-old son Robert and husband John is an art professor at East Illinois University in Charleston, Illinois. Anne Jones Tompkins married Anne's cousin last summer.

An Moser Garner writes that Diane Dodson who is living in Virginia Beach, was planning to be married December 27th and that Pessy Davis and William S. McBride, Jr., were married last January 12th in New York City. Norfolk. Ann and husband Clarence have recently purchased a new home in Richmond, and Anne is retired to enjoy the pleasures of being a housewife.

Received a during picture of Greg Hurst and Santa during the holiday season. Greg is the son of Martha Firebaugh and Gene Hurst who have been teaching in the teachers in Richlands, Virginia, where Gene is a mortician. Murray Roberts Graff and Art have become parents again, Benjamin Campbell

I'm sorry to have been such a negligent correspondent. However, I have heard from only two 1965 MWC graduates in the past year. Thanks to Marilyn Horvath Wriede and Joyce Whitley Smith for their "newspaper" letters. Please say so, so that I can let us '65's know what is occurring in our fellow classmates' lives.

Marilyn Horvath Wriede writes that her husband Peter received his Ph.D. in chemistry from Columbia in March of 1967 and is now employed by the DuPont Company in New Jersey. They are residing in Edison, N. J. She recently heard from Paysa Burroughs Dunaway and mentioned that Sandy Hicks Jarrett, who transferred to MCV junior year, is now living in Flara, Fla. and had spent the previous year teaching there. Marilyn Peter also heard from Beverly Walsh Everett who spent the past year teaching in Newport News while awaiting the return of her husband, Pete, from Viet Nam.

Jan Whitley Smith is working as a psychiatric nurse at the state psychiatric hospital in Raleigh, Tony is on the research faculty at N. C. State University. They had recently moved to their home and are busy decorating and landscaping.

I was a bridesmaid in the wedding of my MWC roommate, Barbara Moore '64. She and husband Alan Devers are both teaching in the same school. I was also tutoring at Barb's wedding were two former MWC's, Linda Suedridge Stone and Carolina Ratos Ipsich.

I saw Kitty Greig Walters during Christmas vacation. She and George are busy putting in the yard of their new home in Hampton.

She reported that Gwyo Prossie, who left MWC her sophomore year and finished at William and Mary, is now married and teaching near Kitty. Kitty had also seen Janice Reaser and Seager and Ed who have recently returned from Germany.

For the fifth year I am teaching at New Castle Jr. School in Delaware and am coaching volleyball, basketball, and softball on the side. I was a hostess at a local restaurant for the last year. At present I am also tutoring a homebound student. To occupy my "free time" I am secretary of our teachers' bowling association and trying to keep up with my English, history and civics classes. I plan to do some traveling this summer, but graduate school will probably occupy most of my "vacation." I hope to reach Charlottesville in May. I hear Pat Jenkins '67 and Susan were not resting. This news item comes from Sandy Joyce '67 who is now calling Arlington, Va. home.

A Christmas card from Jane Potter Jones '67 related that she and Richard are seeing Germany during their tour of duty.

The Alumnae Association has at long last embarked on what may prove ultimately to be one of its most critical undertakings—a search for some 8,000 to 9,000 alumnae "missing" from the files. Such a vast project must be considered long range, but the Association, realizing that it can never prove truly an effective organization without accurate records, seeks the assistance of the more than 9,000 alumnae whose names and addresses are on file, present members of the College community—both faculty and students—parents and friends to assist in providing appropriate information. Below is a partial list of some of the "lost." If you know the whereabouts of any of these—or any others—please contact:
